

Influence of the media

Learning objective

Students explore the impact of sexualised imagery on young people's sexual identities and sexual behaviours through the use of music clips and newspaper articles.

Take Home Messages

- Adolescence is a period of dramatic physical, social and emotional change involving many new feelings and experiences.
- Sexual feelings are a normal part of adolescent change and need to be managed appropriately.
- Sexual activity has physical, social, emotional and legal implications.
- Individuals are responsible for the decisions and choices they make regarding their sexual behaviour.
- People have different attitudes, values and beliefs towards sex and sexuality.
- The digital world is dominated by sexualised imagery that can influence sexual identities and behaviours.

Key concept 2.3 Culture, society and sexuality

- It is important to be aware of how social and cultural norms impact sexual behaviour while developing one's own point of view.

Key concept 4.3 Safe use of information and communication technologies

- Sexually explicit media can result in unrealistic expectations about sexual behaviour, sexual response and body appearance.

Key concept 5.4 Media literacy and sexuality

- Negative and inaccurate media portrayals of men and women can be challenged to influence behaviour positively and promote gender equality.

Materials

- Internet access
- Teaching Resource: Digital Era online article - one per pair

Before You Get Started

- Pornography is something that is becoming much more accessible for young people and something that they are being exposed to much earlier than in the past. Pornography is how some young people receive sex education. Current thinking suggests that these factors can affect young people's expectations of each other and themselves, and also how young people form healthy relationships with others. See the Guide: Young people and the accessibility and influence of pornography for more information on this topic.
- It is possible that a student may have been involved in a traumatic experience relating to pornography and sexual harassment. It is important that teachers are familiar with the Guide: Dealing with disclosures and have a risk management strategy in place.

Learning Activities

Assessing media: Wrecking ball song lyrics 20 minutes

Using a case study, students discuss the necessity of sexualised imagery in the media.

1. Read the lyrics to the Miley Cyrus song Wrecking Ball without telling the students the name of the song or artist (the lyrics can be downloaded from the internet).
 - It's likely students will know this popular hit first released in 2013, but may never have thought about what the lyrics mean.
 - Ask students to consider what the song is about and what it means using the think-pair-share strategy, and then share responses with the class.
2. Show the students the Wrecking Ball YouTube clip (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=My2FRPA3Gf8>) [3:41min]. Ask:
 - What are your initial thoughts and feelings about the clip?
 - Do you feel the sexual behaviour in the video clip is consistent with the message of the song?
 - How does the video clip accurately reflect or not reflect the lyrics?
 - If you were 11 or 12 years of age watching this video clip, what impression do you think it would have on you?

Assessing media: Digital era article 20 minutes

Using an online article, students analyse the impact pornography has on young people and their intimate behaviours. Students extend their knowledge to assess whether pornography is contributing to the normalisation of sexual violence and gender equity in our community.

1. Provide each pair of students with a copy of the Teaching Resource: Digital Era online article to read independently.
2. In small groups, students discuss the following questions.
 - What is the article about and who is it aimed at?
 - How are men and women represented in mainstream advertising, music videos and popular culture? (think about the setting, the activities they are engaged in, the language that is used by, and about, men and women, etc.)
 - Women are often underrepresented in the media, creating the message that women are unimportant or invisible. Can you think of examples of this?

- How do you feel about the article? Do you agree with the claims made?
- How does today's violent pornography found in advertising, music videos and popular culture negatively impact young people and their intimate behaviours?
- How is pornography contributing to the normalisation of sexual violence and gender inequity in our community?
- What might young people think about gender and sexuality if they only got their information about these topics through advertising, music videos and popular culture and did not receive sex education like you are getting?

3-2-1 Reflection

1. Ask students to share their responses from the group task.
2. Discuss differing views and any misconceptions (e.g. sex vs gender).
3. Highlight the Think u know and esafety.gov.au websites for support and further information.

Health campaigns - sexual health

Learning objective

Students explore the purpose of health campaigns and identify the components of a successful campaign. In groups, they develop their own campaign with a sexual health theme.

Take Home Messages

- Health literacy is having the knowledge to find, understand and use information about our own health and health care.
- Understanding health information helps us to make healthier and safer decisions.
- It's important to get health information from credible sources such as health websites.

Before You Get Started

- This is a recommended 4-6 week unit of work. Students will require access to the internet. Prior to starting the unit, check websites and associated campaigns are accessible on school networks.
- Teachers need to understand the concept of health promotion to facilitate the delivery of this learning activity.

The World Health Organization defines health promotion as

“...the process of enabling people to increase control over, and to improve, their health”.¹

Health promotion interventions include policy development; legislation and regulation; re-orienting health services; community development; creating healthy environments; and raising public awareness and engagement through health campaigns. This learning activity focuses on the impact of health campaigns on changing health behaviours through the use of mass media, social media and/or community events.

Learning Activities

Exploring health campaigns20 minutes

Students explore their understanding of health campaigns and determine what they need to know in order to develop a health campaign of their own.

1. Give each student a copy of the Student Activity Sheet: KWL – Health campaigns. Allow 5 minutes for each student to complete the ‘What I know’ about health campaigns section individually. Discuss student answers as a class.
2. Explain to the class what a health campaign is:

A health campaign aims to raise awareness and understanding of a health issue, and often aims to change people's health behaviours. This can be done in a number of ways including mass media, social media and community events.

3. Allow 2 minutes for each student to complete the 'What I want to know' section of the KWL chart. Discuss student answers as a class.

Note: Students will complete the 'What I have learnt' section at the end of this unit of work so should be encouraged to keep in a place easy to find later.

Campaign case studies 25 minutes

Access to a computer lab and internet will be required for this activity as students will investigate case studies of local and national health campaigns. They will then develop a health campaign of their own on one of five sexual health and/or relationships topics: Growing Bodies; Respectful Relationships; Staying Safe; Emotional Wellbeing and/or Diversity.

1. Students form a pair or group of three. Provide each pair/group with one of the case studies from the Student Activity Sheet: Health campaign case studies.
 - Ask the students to visit the campaign website and familiarise themselves with the campaign. They then complete the activity sheet by identifying the target group; the positives, negatives and issues of the campaign; and if the campaign worked.
 - All students who worked on the same campaign are then joined together in a larger group to discuss their results. Each group then nominates a spokesperson to present their findings to the class.
2. Explain to students that they will be developing their own health campaign on a sexual health and/or relationship topic of their choice. This can be done individually, in pairs, or in small groups.
 - Display the Teaching Resource: Health campaign topics PowerPoint slides. Discuss ideas for health campaigns that can be developed for each of the topic areas. Explain that students will need to decide on a topic area and then a subject for their health campaign.
 - Distribute the Student Activity Sheet: Health campaign plan to each student or group. Explain each section of the activity sheet.
 - Each student/group has 4-6 weeks to research and develop their health campaign.

3-2-1 Reflection

1. Students present their health campaign to the class or to others (e.g. peers, parents, school or other community members).
 - Seek feedback from the audience as to how effective they thought your campaign was using a Rating Scale: use Student Activity Sheet: Campaign evaluation (students may decide to design and use their own format to seek feedback).
2. Students complete the 'What I have learnt' section of their KWL chart to describe what they have learnt from this activity.

Body Image

Learning objective

Students analyse how beauty is represented in the media through music and magazines and the impact this, and the perceptions of others, have on personal identities.

Take Home Messages

- Beauty can be stereotyped in the media for both males and females.
- Our personal identities can be influenced by the media and other people's perceptions.

International technical guidance on sexuality education

Key concept 5.4 Media literacy and sexuality

- Some media portray unrealistic images about sexuality and sexual relationships, which can influence our perceptions of gender and self-esteem

Key concept 6.4 Body image

- People's feelings about their bodies can affect their health, self-image and behaviour

Materials

- Butcher's paper [6 pieces]
- Old magazines and/or newspapers
- A5 coloured paper
- Video: Try by Colbie Caillat (3 min 51 sec video)

Before You Get Started

- Protective interrupting - Teachers need to know and understand how to use this technique to prevent students from potentially disclosing sensitive information or abuse in front of other students.
- Dealing with disclosures - Teachers must be aware of school and legal procedures if a student discloses personal issues, particularly disclosures of sexual abuse.

- With so many physical and emotional changes occurring during puberty, it is normal for young people to be more self-aware during this time. In Mission Australia's Youth Survey 2024, 75% of young people are concerned about body image. See the Guide: Body image for more information.
- It is important to highlight the differences between beauty represented in the world around us and real life. This activity provides an opportunity to discuss and support students' confidence and self-esteem.
- A group agreement and classroom management are essential so students feel safe and respected during classroom activities.

Learning Activities

Group agreement

5 min

Teaching tip: A group agreement must be established before any Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE) program begins to ensure a safe learning environment. Read Essential Tool: Establishing a group agreement for tips on how to create one and what to include.

1. Revise or create the class group agreement.

Learning Activities

Character trait brainstorm

20 min

2. Attach 6 pieces of butcher's paper to the walls of the classroom. Label each piece of butcher's paper with one of the following titles: beautiful, sexy, ugly, handsome, creative, helpful.
3. Allocate a small group of students to each piece of paper.

Teaching tip: You may want to choose groups or allow students to self-select to reduce the potential for bullying or inappropriate comments. If this won't be an issue check out the Teaching strategies: Group strategies for ideas on grouping.

4. Give students 2 minutes to write things that come to mind when they think of the word that is on their piece of butcher's paper. It might be other adjectives, or it might be celebrities. Ensure they do not write names of people they know personally (e.g. other people at school).
5. Move the groups to the next gallery walk to the right and repeat the process until each group has written on each of the pieces of butcher's paper.
6. As a whole group, discuss what the class has written for each concept and any similarities or differences.

Learning Activities

Beauty in the media

30 min

9. Give students old magazines/newspapers/print outs and more recent advertisements/pictures of celebrities.
10. Ask the students are to explore the magazines/newspapers for what they perceive to be natural beauty and consider what about beauty standards have changed over time.
11. Ask:

What do you perceive natural beauty to be?

What assumptions do we make from how someone looks?

What beauty standards have remained the same over time? What has changed/changing?

Trigger warning: Let students know we will be talking about beauty standards and some of its harmful impacts on how we think/feel about ourselves or other people.

Teaching tip: You may find it useful writing up and collecting the answers for the next four discussion questions on the whiteboard by splitting the whiteboard into three columns.

How would you describe the beauty standards of today? Think about the types of people and beauty young people like you are exposed to through movies, TV, musicians, influencers on Instagram and TikTok?

Think about the current beauty standards today we just defined. If you are an average young person today, seeing those beauty standards, how are you thinking about feeling about yourself or your body?

If you are thinking and feeling these things, how would you act - what would you do in response to these thoughts and feelings?

How would these thoughts/feelings impact how we act in relationships or when someone is trying to get a girlfriend/boyfriend/partner?

12. Say:

These often unrealised beauty standards can really impact how we see ourselves and the world around us. It can also impact how we treat ourselves, our friends and even our boyfriend/girlfriend/partners.

13. Watch 'Try' by Colbie Caillat on YouTube (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GXoZLPSw8U8>) [3:51min]

14. Ask students to reflect independently and silently for two minutes.

1. How do they perceive themselves physically?
2. Do they see themselves differently after seeing the clip?

15. Ask:

What are thoughts and feelings were after seeing the clip?

What is the key message of the song?

What impact does the media have on our perceptions of what beauty is and how we perceive ourselves?

16. Say:

"We are constantly receiving image-related messages from different sources about what the 'beautiful' or 'ideal' body. Therefore, it is not surprising that instead of embracing diversity in all body types, we focus on achieving perfection and judging ourselves or others. It is important to remember the filters people use, the lighting and angles when viewing images. It is okay if your body does not match with the people you see online. Every body is different and diversity is wonderful. What is healthy, strong and beautiful and happy look different for everyone."

3-2-1 Reflection

Snowball

10 minutes

17. Give each person in a small group a piece of the same coloured paper. Make sure each small group has a different colour.
18. Each person writes their name on their piece of paper then scrunches it up to resemble a snowball.
19. Teacher says 'snowball' and everyone throws their snowball to the group to the right of them.
20. Each person then picks up or catches a snowball from the group to the left of them.
21. The snowballs are unravelled, and one positive, non-physical affirmation is written about the person whose name is on the piece of paper (e.g. thank you for being caring).
22. The snowballs are then scrunched up and thrown to the right again and the process continues until each person has received their snowball back.
23. Give the students 2 minutes to read and reflect on the positive affirmations other people have written about them.
24. Discuss as a whole group how it feels to receive positive comments about yourself. What other comments would you write about yourself? Why?
25. Give students 1 minute to add to their own snowball.
26. Discuss as a whole group how the comments from others can impact on our identities positively and negatively.

Partnerships

School staff

- Have the school psychologist, youth worker or student support team provide information on what services are available to support students who may be struggling.

Families

- Give parents awareness on when this lesson will occur so they can provide extra support to their young person if required.

Education

Professional development

- The student services/student wellbeing teams are training and equipped to support students who are struggling with their body image.

Environment

Policy

- Healthy eating policies are clear not to make judgements about people.
